Emerging Future 2012

ESADE MBA Emerging Markets Conference

Is the World Ready?

Emerging Future 2012 brings together creative minds to discuss, debate, and challenge the most pressing topics concerning emerging markets today.

This year's event will tackle ...

Sustainable Operations: Is there a need for sustainable operations in emerging markets? What are the main challenges while integrating sustainability into Operations? What are the benefits of implementing sustainable Operations?

Emerging Financial Sectors: We will discuss different challenges that financial institutions face when operating in emerging markets, specifically with regard to investing initiatives and their impact on economic growth, social welfare, and value creation for shareholders.

Healthcare Innovation: A dynamic group of experts in Technology, Media and Healthcare will explore business opportunities that advances in new technologies have created for the healthcare sector in emerging markets.
