Position Announcement

Non-tenured Faculty Position in Corporate Social Responsibility and Business Ethics

ESADE Business School, Department of Social Sciences

ESADE Business School seeks to appoint a non-tenured faculty member with a professional and teaching profile in the areas of Corporate Social Responsibility, Business Ethics, and Values-Based Higher Education in Management and Law. The successful candidate is expected to join ESADE in September 2018 or earlier.

Candidates should have a PhD at the time of joining ESADE, possess a proven teaching record in the areas announced, and show the capacity to conduct applied research including materials targeted towards a practitioner audience. Excellent teaching skills are expected and the capacity to work with students at the undergraduate, masters and executive level, by promoting reflective inquiry into personal values and professional commitment.

Other aspects that will be valued are the facility to engage in audio-visual communication and management experience. The candidate is expected to participate in the activities of the Institute for Social Innovation at ESADE. Speaking and writing in Spanish and Catalan will be considered an advantage for this position.

The Department of Social Sciences at ESADE is a lively academic group, including professors teaching and doing research in sociology, ethics, CSR, sustainability, leadership, corporate political activity, and geopolitics. The Department has close links with European and US academic institutions and its members participate in international research projects.

The successful candidate will also be affiliated to the Institute for Social Innovation, which focuses on research and dissemination in the areas of social entrepreneurship, NGO leadership, and corporate sustainability. For further information about the Institute for Social Innovation please visit the website.

ESADE comprises a business school and a law school, currently spread across three campuses: Barcelona, Sant Cugat del Vallès and Madrid. In turn, ESADE is a member of the Ramon Llull University. The school’s official mission is “to educate highly-professional individuals aware of their responsibilities as national and global citizens, sensitive to issues of solidarity and social justice and keen to engage in collective projects.” Its tagline is “inspiring futures.”

It runs a wide range of business courses of Business Administration and Law at degree and postgraduate levels in Spanish and English. ESADE has co-operation agreements with many top universities around the globe and offers a wide range of programs in all branches of Business Administration and Law.

The deadline to send applications is December 31, 2017. Interested parties should send a cover letter containing a brief statement of teaching and scholarship interests, a CV, the names and contact details of three people who have agreed to act as possible referees (letters are not necessary at the initial stage), two recent examples of publications, any other material (evidence of teaching excellence, etc.) that can help the selection committee.
