

ESADE Business School, Barcelona or Madrid, Spain

Position Announcement Tenure-Track Faculty Position¹ in Industrial Organization (Department of Economics)

ESADE Business School seeks to appoint a faculty member at assistant or associate professor level with a strong background in Sector Analysis, Competition and Industrial Policies. The position of full-time professor in the Department of Economics will be appointed in September 2009 and it could be fulfilled either in Madrid or Barcelona campus. The successful candidate will contribute to both theoretical and applied aspects of the department's research and will have an active research agenda. The applicant is also expected to play an active role in the Executive Education courses as well as graduate courses (MBA & Ph.D. programs).

The candidate should have a Ph.D. in the area, and possess outstanding research and teaching qualifications. Possible areas of research and teaching are topics such as: Sector Analysis, Competition and Industrial Policies, and Market Regulation in general.

The Department of Economics consists of nine professors, whose profiles fall into two basic areas: macroeconomics and microeconomic analysis. The academic and professional backgrounds of the faculty within each of these areas are diverse, and provide a complete range of experience capable of responding to the varied needs of the different ESADE program participants. The teaching staff of the department covers economic basics in the areas of microeconomics, macroeconomics and global economics.

There are two outstanding characteristics of the Economics Department. First is the diversity of the faculty, who are experienced in teaching a varied curriculum to a heterogeneous student population. The second is the high quality of that teaching, as witnessed in the transmission of ideas and content and in the specialized attention given to individual participants. Additionally, the department is strengthening its research lines, which are currently focused on applied macroeconomics topics.

ESADE is a member of the Universitat Ramon Llull and has facilities in Madrid and Barcelona. It runs a wide range of business courses at degree and postgraduate levels in Spanish and English in Europe and Latin America. ESADE has co-operation agreements with many top universities around the globe. We rank among the world's leading schools and offer a wide range of programmes in all branches of Business Administration and Law. ESADE Business School, consistently recognised as one of the world's leading business schools; globally ranked no. 1 international school, The Wall Street Journal, September 2007; globally ranked no. 7 non-US school, Business Week, October 2006. ranked no. 2 European School in corporate social responsibility; Aspen Institute, October 2007.

ESADE is involved in an effort to further internationalize its faculty as demonstrated by recent international hiring and recruitment plans for the years to come. In addition ESADE is making a strong commitment to intensifying its research activity. This is reflected in its strong commitment to strengthening its Department of Economics with internationally-recognized research-oriented faculty in the next few years.
