ABOUT ESADE

In 1958, a small group of innovative businessmen imagined the future. ESADE is the outcome of their initiative and entrepreneurial spirit. Today, with 50 years of experience, ESADE continues to make positive contributions to the development of entrepreneurial leaders as well as their staff and organisations, fostering social responsibility and an ethical commitment to their companies.

ESADE has become an important centre for research in the ever-changing fields of social science, management, law and economics as well as a forum for discussing and evaluating current and foreseeable socio-political, cultural and technological developments. ESADE has long been distinguished by its commitment to pluralism. Although Spain's past political situation sometimes made this difficult, the school has always accepted and respected a variety of opinions and beliefs, and this has no doubt contributed towards shaping ESADE's reputation as a progressive, dynamic institution.

Today, ESADE ranks prominently among university institutions not only in Spain but also internationally, finding itself among the top schools in rankings carried out by The Wall Street Journal, The Financial Times and Business Week serving the public interest by educating future leaders of society, carrying out research and analysis and actively participating in government projects.

ESADE has developed a cooperative culture focused on teamwork, closely following the trends in the current corporate climate. The business school strives to train business people with an open, entrepreneurial spirit who are capable of leading a team through the changes that challenge them daily, providing fast responses and knowing how to take advantage of the opportunities that these ongoing changes have to offer.

The innovative spirit that marked ESADE from the beginning remains as alive today as ever.

International Outlook

Right from the start, ESADE opted for an international focus. It is one of the founding members of the European Foundation for Management Development EFMD and the Community of European Management Schools CEMS. ESADE is also a member of the American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business AACSB, The Association of MBAs AMBA, The Graduate Management Admission Council GMAC, the Latin American Council of Business Schools CLADEA and numerous other academic and professional associations.
Accreditations

ESADE Business School received the EQUIS Quality Label awarded by the EFMD in 1998 and the corresponding re-accreditation in 2002. The MBA Programme was first accredited by AMBA in 1994 and reaccredited in 1999. In 2001 the AACSB accredited the Degree Programmes at ESADE. The Business School became one of only four European Schools to have this triple accreditation.

A BRIEF HISTORY

1954 Members of the Catalan business community set up a private foundation with the aim of creating a management school in Barcelona Spain.

1958 The foundation joined forces with the Society of Jesus and the ESADE Business School was founded.

1965 The ESADE Language School was founded.

1965 ESADE moved into a specially constructed building in the Pedralbes district.

1980 Permanent facilities for Executive programmes were inaugurated in Madrid.

1983 Building 2 was inaugurated in Barcelona.

1992 Building 3 was inaugurated in Barcelona.

1992 The Fundació ESADE joined the Universitat Ramon Llull, a federation of long-established private schools of higher education that was formed in 1991, and took responsibility for the university’s teaching and research programmes in legal science, creating the ESADE Law School which enhances the standard curriculum with a particular emphasis on international and business law.

1995 The ESADE Business School also joined the Universitat Ramon Llull, bringing the number of federated schools to 8, with a total enrolment of 11,000 students.

2001 ESADE opened new facilities in Madrid, expanding the activities of the Business School.

2009 ESADE opened the university campus in Sant Cugat.

ESADE is managed by a Director General, who is appointed by the board of trustees of the Fundació ESADE. Academic responsibility for each of the schools belonging to ESADE is assigned to a dean or director appointed by the Board of Trustees on the recommendation of the Director General.

During the second semester exchange students can also participate in any of the internal activities organized by the Sports Committee, such as the Esports & Schumpeter week-end, the indoor football championship, the ESADE marathon and others. Please note that any suggestions and/or assistance for future events are always welcome.
EU citizens, citizens of the European Economic Area (Norway, Iceland, Liechtenstein) and Switzerland do not require a visa to enter Spain. All you need is a national identification card or passport.

For non-EU members, visa requirements may differ from country to country, so ESADE recommends that you consult the Spanish Embassy or Consulate in your home country concerning the process for obtaining a Student Visa/Visado para Estudios. This can be a lengthy process so get started as early as possible.

You can download the Schengen Visa application here: http://www.maec.es/SiteCollectionDocuments/Formularios/Svisain.pdf

The documentation that you will be asked to present will include:

- Passport
- Passport-size photos
- Proof of financial means
- Letter of acceptance from ESADE
- Proof of health insurance including repatriation
- Other special information required for citizens of your country

Important Points:
If you plan to travel outside of Spain during the period shown on your Student Visa, be sure to ask for a multiple-entry visa.

If you enter Spain without a visa or on a Tourist Visa, you cannot extend your stay beyond the 90-day limit. In the event that you decide to stay longer than 90 days, you will be required to return to your home country to apply for the Student Visa there.

If your passport is not stamped on entering Spain or the Schengen Area, keep your plane ticket stub or receipt in case you need to prove date of entry.

In the past, Spanish consulates in various countries have instructed students who are coming to Spain for only three months to come on a Tourist Visa rather than a Student Visa. A Tourist Visa is valid for 90 days and is much easier to obtain. Follow the advice of the Spanish Consulate.

If you are living outside your home country when you apply for a Student Visa, the Spanish Embassy or Consulate in the country where you are currently residing may require you to return to your home country to apply for the Student Visa.
Visa. Do not assume that you will be able to obtain a Student Visa from a Spanish Embassy or Consulate outside your home country.

AFTER ARRIVING

EVERYONE, whether from the EU or not, who is living in Barcelona for longer than 3 months, is required by law to register with the local town council. This is called padrón/empadronamiento and is one of the easier processes to carry out.

In addition to the Padrón, students from EU countries who will be in Spain for more than 3 months are required to obtain an NIE, numero de identidad de extranjero, within 1 month of arrival in Barcelona. The documentation you are required to provide is:

- Passport or national identity document + copy
- You may be asked to provide justification for staying in Spain; take your acceptance letter from ESADE just in case

Present your documentation at the address below. You will be given another form to fill out, take to a bank and pay the fees (about €7). You will receive the certificate the same day.

HEALTH INSURANCE

All international students are required to have valid medical insurance coverage for the entire time they are in Spain.

Because terms differ depending on your country of origin, ESADE recommends that you request complete information from your insurance company before coming to Spain to make sure that you’re covered.

Students from EU countries

If you are covered by your country’s national health system, you should request a European Health Insurance Card from your home country, which, in most cases, entitles you to free medical assistance from the Spanish public health system.

If you are covered by private insurance, consult your insurance company about the specific details and exact procedure to follow should you need medical care while in Spain. It’s best to do this before you have an emergency.

Students from Non-EU countries

You are required to arrange for private insurance to cover medical care in Spain. Consult your insurance company about the specific details and exact procedure to follow should you need medical attention while in Spain.

If you would rather arrange for medical insurance here in Spain, many ESADE students take advantage of the discounted group rate which is offered through DKV; the cost is €40/mo, which includes dental service. For more detailed information, read the FAQs:S:\ISA\INSURANCE\DKV FAQ's.doc or contact:

ESADE does not have any housing facilities for students in Barcelona, although there is a student residence in Sant Cugat which will open in SEPT 2009. There is a large amount of available housing in Barcelona, but it can be relatively expensive and time consuming to find. To locate an apartment on your own requires knowledge of the different areas, distritos, in Barcelona because prices vary substantially from one area to another. In addition, newspaper ads are frequently misleading and for the foreigner coming to the city for the first time, this can be a very frustrating experience.

It is highly recommended that you plan to arrive in Barcelona at least one week prior to the start of your Exchange Program to locate accommodation. With this in mind you should book a room in a hotel, hostel or student residence before arriving.  http://www.barcelonaturisme.com/

About the Rental Agencies

The average price of a room in a shared apartment for the year 2008 – 2009 is about €400 per person per month. It’s possible to find rooms for less if you have time to look and, of course, you will find higher rents. Prices vary depending on the neighbourhood, the building, the apartment, the furnishings and the size of the bedroom that you will be renting as well as other expenses which may or may not be included in the rent. Agencies usually charge a fee for their services and usually require a deposit, approximately one month's rent from each student in the apartment. This deposit may be returned when the keys are handed in prior to departure, although you may have to wait 30 days for the bills to clear before you get the deposit back. Be sure to clarify this point before making a decision in order to avoid misunderstandings later on. If you lose your keys, there may be a prohibitive surcharge. The cost of any damage to the apartment will be deducted from the deposit and if the apartment is not left in the same condition as the day you walked in, you may be charged a cleaning fee. Apartments are usually rented for full months. Rent is payable on the 1st of each month. Students who leave their rooms before the end of their contract may forfeit their deposit. Be sure to clarify all these issues with the agency before signing a contract.

Check out the apartment before signing a contract. Having said this, some rental agencies, upon request, will send you general information about the housing services they offer and a reservation form. If you want to make use of this option you must sign the form and return it. Upon receipt, the rental agency will let you know what accommodation is available. In order to confirm your reservation, you will have to transfer the amount payable in advance. The agency will confirm your reservation upon receipt of payment, and send you more detailed information about your accommodation and how to reach their office upon arrival. Please note that, if you are not satisfied with the apartment or your room when you arrive, the agency will only offer you other accommodation if it is available. Demand far exceeds supply so it is not unusual for the agency to say that no other accommodation is available.

When the time comes to sign the contract, be sure to read the entire document carefully. If you are renting a furnished apartment the contract should list the contents of the apartment and its condition. If there is something that you do not understand in the document you are being asked to sign, do not sign it until you can seek advice.

As a rule someone from the agency will take you to your apartment, acquaint you with the equipment in the apartment washing machine, etc. and give you the keys. You should give the agency advance notice of your exact date and time of arrival to insure that the appropriate arrangements will be made.

If you have problems with the apartment during your stay there you should contact the agency immediately and if the problem is not solved to your satisfaction get in touch with the International Student Advisor.
Should you wish to extend your stay beyond your term at ESADE, you should notify your rental agency at least one month in advance. Extensions are contingent on availability.

BULLETIN BOARDS – ANOTHER OPTION

Many students consult the bulletin boards in the three ESADE buildings to find accommodation. Local students as well as exchange students post adverts on these bulletin boards. Most adverts are from students who already have an apartment established and they are looking for one or more students to share the apartment with them. Other ads are posted by private individuals and may be for entire apartments as well as apartments to share. Often, several exchange students get together to rent an apartment for the duration of their stay in Barcelona. The ads change from day to day. Finally, there’s a virtual bulletin board (tablón de anuncios) on the Intranet > Campus.

Barcelona is divided into 10 districts, each with its own Oficine d’Atenció al Ciutadà or Citizens’ Attention Office where much of the administrative paperwork can be done, like “empadronamiento”. These 10 districts are further divided into over 70 neighbourhoods and a few more subdivisions, so Pedralbes, the neighbourhood where ESADE is located is administratively part of the Les Corts district. For a more detailed look at the city, click on to either of the two websites below. NOTE: All Barcelona city maps show the Mediterranean Sea at the bottom of the page and although we all know that the sea lies to the east-southeast of the city, when people talk about the neighbourhoods at the top of the city, they talk about the North end of the city, so Pedralbes is considered to be in the North end of

WHERE TO LIVE

One of the great advantages of the size of the city is that it is easy to get around. The public transport system works well and taxis are still moderately priced. However, ESADE is located at the top end of the city, so your links to school are important to bear in mind. Here, we will give a brief and subjective description of the main areas of the city to help you choose where to live. The neighbourhoods described begin with Pedralbes, where ESADE is located and continue clockwise with nearby areas first, followed by further extended districts. To find out how long it takes to get to ESADE from anywhere in the city by public transport, take a look here: http://www.tmb.net/en_US/home.jsp

Pedrables
This is the residential area where the school is located; Princess Christina lives here with her family. It is the most exclusive and expensive district of the city. There are large flats that students share here, but they tend to be more expensive than in other areas. There’s not much nightlife and it’s rather isolated once the buses stop running at night. Verdict: nice if you can get it, rather quiet, residential and expensive.

Sarrià
(notice the accent on the last syllable) This is an old neighbourhood located within walking distance to ESADE at the top of the city. It was the last village to be incorporated into Barcelona in 1921. Traditionally populated by farmers, artisans, builders and small shopkeepers, it has become a haven for the middle classes fleeing the noise and crowds of the city centre. The quality and size of accommodation here is pretty good, but matched by the prices. Transport links are also good both to school and into the centre. Verdict: Popular area, but can be expensive.

Sant Gervasi & El Putxet
These are neighbouring residential areas above Diagonal and between Sarrià and Gràcia. They are popular areas for students to live in with many flats, good facilities and transport links available. It is possible to walk to school but most prefer the quick bus ride. Verdict: popular area for students with good public transport

Les Corts
This area extends up from the Eixample esquerra to ESADE. One of the original villages built around a cloth factory outside the city walls, Les Corts is fairly quiet and placid. That is, of course, apart from those days when Barça have a home game at the Camp Nou! It is close to school with good access to the shops on Diagonal, public transport around the city is good. Verdict: quiet and residential, but well located for connections around town.

Gracia
This is another old village that was originally outside the city, which was incorporated in 1897. It has retained its popular squares with outdoor cafes, its narrow streets and local markets giving it a distinct neighbourhood atmosphere. It is very popular with both students and foreigners who live side by side with local neighbours. There is constant renovation going on and there is no end to the activities which are programmed throughout the year, culminating in the Festa Major de Gràcia which runs for about a week in mid-AUG. The area is well served with transport links to school. Verdict: Very popular with those who like to live in a local neighbourhood but open to the world.

Eixample (Ensanche)
This is a large area that extends beyond Plaça Catalunya and is easy to identify on the map by the grid structure designed by Ildefons Cerdà in 1855. Passeig de Gràcia, one of the most elegant avenues in the city, divides it into Eixample dreta (on the right going up from Plaça Catalunya) and Eixample esquerra (on the left) and is one of the prime shopping areas with a wide variety of designer boutiques. The distinctive corners (xaflans) were cut at a 45º angle in order to accommodate the wide turning radius of the trams then in use. The majority of the streets and avenues are one-way, but you’ll soon get used to it. The bus network zigzags its way across the area so that you’re never more than a few blocks away from a bus stop. Flats tend to be large with spacious rooms. Some areas and some streets are more expensive than others, so it is difficult to generalise. Verdict: This area is very popular with ESADE students, but check out the facilities and links in the specific street.

Barri Gòtic, Raval & La Ribera
The Barri Gòtic is the oldest part of the city; many buildings date from medieval times and parts of the ancient Roman wall can still be seen there. For the most part, the narrow streets are closed to motor traffic and you may get the feeling that you’re inside a labyrinth. Going down from Plaça Catalunya, the Raval is on the right. It was formerly known as el Barri Xinès, or the red-light district but a lot of time and money has been invested in cleaning up this area. Buildings have come down and more light has come in. This changing setting is home to a diverse immigrant population so you can find designer bars and restaurants sharing the neighbourhood with a diversity of ethnic restaurants. La Ribera, on the other side of Via Laietana, is where the Islamic population moved in the 10th century when it was banished from the city. Historically this area was populated by merchants and seafarers, who raised the money to build Santa Maria del Mar, a perfect gothic church because of its dimensions. Because this area has the highest concentration of tourist traffic in the city, it also attracts pickpockets and other petty criminals. Enjoy yourself, but be careful, especially at night. The accommodation here is a mixture of old and new, traditional and trendy; it can be noisy and may not have modern facilities. Verdict: If you are interested in living here check the location before you make a decision.

Barceloneta

Long inhabited by fisherman, this seafront area welcomes sunbathers to its beaches on the seaside, and luxury yachts in it harbour. It’s also popular for its seafood restaurants, all which help create an easy-going festive mood. Most of the streets are narrow and many apartments here have been subdivided so they tend to be small. It’s a nice place to visit but a rather long way across town to school. Verdict: If you live here, you’ll probably see many more tourists than locals.

Port Olímpic

This is the modern redevelopment of dockland area that commenced with the 1992 Olympic Games in Barcelona. Much of it is modern and functional in a way that is similar to redeveloped areas in many modern cities. Work continues to expand the redevelopment past the Forum. Prices tend to be higher than other parts of the city and transport links are improving all the time. Verdict: modern development, but quite far and difficult by public transport.

TRANSPORTATION

Barcelona is a large, densely populated city and like most cities of its size, traffic and parking can be problematical. If you plan to buy a car or bring your own you must keep in mind that parking is a constant problem and you should consider the possibility of renting a space for your car in a parking garage. Many people in Barcelona find that owning a small motorcycle is preferable.

On the other hand, the public transportation system within the city is good and is constantly expanding. It consists of a bus network, a metro system, the Ferrocarrils de la Generalitat de Catalunya (FGC), a local train system and the trams. You can find more detailed information at www.tmb.es.

GETTING FROM THE AIRPORT TO THE CENTRE OF THE CITY

There are three options bus, train and taxi:

Aerobus This comfortable, air conditioned BLUE bus takes you to and from the airport every 15 minutes with stops at Plaça Catalunya, Passeig de Gracia and Plaça España, among others.

Tickets cost €4.05/one way - €7.00 round trip and can be purchased on the bus. It runs Monday – Sunday, 05:30 – 1:00
Train
The train will take you to Sants central station, Passeig de Gràcia and Estació de França. It runs seven days a week 06:13 – 22:43 with trains leaving every 30 minutes. It costs €2.60 one way or you can also use the T-10 pass which costs €7.20.

Taxi
Barcelona taxis are distinctively black and yellow and have a green light on the roof which is lit when a taxi is available. In addition to the fare on the meter, there is an airport surcharge as well as an extra charge for luggage. This information is posted on one of the back windows in the taxi. The price for a ride to downtown Barcelona is about €30.

NOTE: the listed fares are subject to change.

GETTING AROUND THE CITY

Metro
This is the name of the main underground or subway system in Barcelona which provides trains that are comfortable and air conditioned in summer. With six lines it can take you almost anywhere in the city. The different lines are known by a number as well as a colour, eg Line 3 or the Green Line. The closest metro stop to ESADE is Maria Cristina > Line 3 > Green.

FGC
This is a separate and commuter rail system that runs underground within the city and out to the suburbs. It shares some stations with the metro. The closest station to ESADE is Reina Elíesenda.

Autobus
The bus system in Barcelona is extensive and you can transfer from one bus to another without extra charge, although you do have to cancel your ticket again. The bus lines that stop nearest to ESADE are the 22, 64, 75, 78 and 63.

Renfe
The national train network which includes Cercanías, the local lines in the Integrated Fare System.

Tickets - A single ticket costs €1.30 and a ten-ride pass, the T-10, costs €7.20. There are also monthly tickets and tri-monthly tickets for unlimited travel if you think you will be using public transport very frequently. The Integrated Fare System makes it possible to use the different modes of transport (metro, bus, FGC and Renfe) in the same trip within the metropolitan region. For more information about the trains and buses, check out the website of Transports Metropolitans de Barcelona at: http://www.tmb.net

Taxis
Taxis are usually plentiful and quite efficient because they share the same street lanes reserved for the bus system. Make sure that when you start your trip the meter is turned on and that you pay whatever it indicates at the end of your journey. You may be charged extra for carrying luggage or packages and also for late hours or holidays. Current fares are posted in view inside the taxi. Tipping the taxi driver is strictly optional. Most people in Barcelona simply round off the fare to the nearest Euro or half-Euro. If the green light on the roof is lit, the taxi is available and although people stop taxis most anywhere, street corners are generally more convenient places to stop.

MONEY AND BANKS

Once you have arrived in Barcelona you can either open a bank account here or work with your bank account at home through a bank card or credit card. You can find ATMs (Automatic Teller Machines) at most banks and savings banks (caixas/cajas), however, be sure to check with your home bank before you leave to make sure you can use your card in Spain, and under what conditions. Some machines don’t accept PINs of more than 4 digits, for example, and the keypads don’t have letters on them, so learn your numeric code before coming.

Use your credit/debit card to get the best exchange rates for purchases, including your hotel stays and meals, at better establishments. Mastercard and Visa are accepted almost everywhere; American Express runs a close second in usability.

Please note that foreign currency exchange booths in the centre of Barcelona may charge high commissions as well as give a poor exchange rate.

OPENING A BANK ACCOUNT

Opening a bank account in Spain is simple. You will need to show your passport to open the account and to make transactions by teller. It is a good idea to check with your home bank about the possibility of opening an account with a corresponding bank in Barcelona. Many foreign banks such as Barclays, Citibank, BNP and Deutsche Bank have local branches in Barcelona. One thing to note is that banking hours here in Spain are extremely inconvenient. Hours are approximately 8:30 – 14:00, Monday – Friday; some savings banks are open Thursday afternoon, Sept – May; few are open on Saturdays.

It is very important to change your account from non-resident to resident status as soon as you receive your Student Card. Not only will you save on service charges, but you will also save yourself considerable hassle when you receive a money transfer. Spanish law currently requires a cumbersome reference check for personal transfers larger than €2,700 to non-resident accounts which can delay payment for up to 6 weeks. There are further restrictions on transfers from your summer employer, so make sure to switch your account over to residency status ASAP. EU citizens may be asked to provide their NIE to maintain an account.

ESADE has its own branch of Caja Madrid a Spanish bank on campus, which is a convenient option for students.
INTERNATIONAL FUNDS TRANSFERS

Transferring funds to Spain from another country presents no problem, however, it is important to have the bank code information (IBAN/SWIFT) for both banks in order to facilitate the transaction. Always be sure to ask about the fees involved on both sides of the transaction, the originating foreign bank and the receiving Spanish bank, especially when converting currencies.

Students have sometimes been surprised by the fact that even though they paid the transaction fees in their home country, they had to pay additional fees for the Spanish bank to receive the transfer.

CREDIT CARDS

All major credit cards are accepted in stores and restaurants in Spain. If you are here for only a matter of months, no bank will issue you a credit card although you can get a debit card. You can, of course, use your existing foreign credit cards such as VISA, Mastercard and American Express.

The phone numbers to cancel credit cards are:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Credit Card</th>
<th>Phone Numbers</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Visa International</td>
<td>900 991 216 free call in English or 902 114 400</td>

<tr>

<td>93 330 7009 or 902 114 400</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>American Express</td>
<td>902 375 637 or 902 111 135</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

ATMs AND “LA CAIXA”

“La Caixa” boasts the largest network of automatic teller machines within Barcelona and Catalunya. Caixa Oberta or cajeros automaticos are located throughout the city and in most cases are accessible 24 hours a day. ESADE students who open an account at ESADE’s branch of Caja Madrid can use any ATM that has a “Servired” logo free of charge and these include ”La Caixa”.

If you’re here for only a few months, it may be easiest to maintain your account in your home country and withdraw money from ATMs connected to networks such as CIRRUS and STAR. Check with your home bank as to whether the same network exists in Spain.

EATING AND DRINKING

People usually eat quite late in Spain; lunch is around 14:00 and dinner as late as 22:00 or 23:00. Especially at night, restaurants may be empty before this time.
There are several different kinds of drinking establishments – “bares” or cafes which serve coffee as well as alcoholic and non-alcoholic drinks and often serve food; “bares musicales” and clubs which serve alcoholic and non-alcoholic drinks and may have a small dance floor, “Discotecas” are pretty much standard and stay open until 02:00/03:00 or later. After that, chill-out bars and after-hours may stay open until into the afternoon.

For complete listings of bars and restaurants you should consult one of the many guides available. The “Guía del Ocio” [http://guiadelocio.com/] is published every Friday, can be purchased in any news stand, kiosk, and is one of the best.

PHARMACIES

Pharmacies are recognizable by a green flashing cross outside, and are open during normal shopping hours 09:00 – 13:30 & 16:30 – 20:00. Many pharmacies are closed on Saturday afternoons. There are always a few pharmacies open outside these hours farmacias de guardia or farmacias de turno. There are a number of pharmacies which are open 24-hours a day, year round. A list of farmacias with late night or 24-hour service can be found in the newspaper and is posted outside each pharmacy. This list will also give you the location of the nearest pharmacy. For minor complaints, you can depend on your local pharmacist to give you knowledgeable advice.

TELEPHONES

Public telephones for local as well as international calls are readily available throughout the city. There are street phones and you can also find public phones in most bars and restaurants. Most public phones will accept coins and you can also buy phonecards at any tobacco shop (estanc), post office (correus) or call centre (locutori)

The country code for Spain is 34 and all calls in the Barcelona area begin with the number 93. To call abroad, first dial 00 + country code + area code + phone number. For information about local and national numbers dial 1003 and for international information dial 025.

MOBILE PHONES

The rate of change and the level of new competition in mobile phones make it difficult to say anything apart from, shop around once you get here. All the main European operators who are still functioning are operating in Spain with both pay-as-you-go and contract services. The Bright Co. www.thebrightco.com and Studentphone www.studentphone.com rent mobile phones and SIM cards and will be happy to unravel the intricacies of cell phone use here in Spain. They both offer special deals for ESADE students, including free calls between ESADE students on campus. You may want to consult with your classmates before signing on with one or the other company.

FURTHER INFORMATION ABOUT BARCELONA

SAFETY

Compared to most other cities of its size, Barcelona is a very safe city in which to live. The crime rate is low and the streets, even at night, are unusually safe in most neighbourhoods.

Having said this, it would be wise to remember that Barcelona is normally full of tourists and where there are tourists there are always those who will take advantage of visitors who may not know the city well and how to stay safe in it. Even if you do not think you look like a tourist, assume that you will be easily identified as a foreigner by the wrong elements!

You should be particularly careful with your personal possessions: wallets, bags, coats, cameras, computers etc. in the areas that are frequented by tourists, especially at the airport, tourist attractions and outdoor cafes. Do not put your wallet in your back pocket, and do think about purchasing a bag with a strap which can be worn across your chest.

Never leave a bag hanging on the back of a chair in restaurants or outdoor cafes; if you do put your bag down, strap it to a chair. Other popular sites for pickpockets and purse-snatchers are bus stops, train platforms and anywhere where there are lots of people. These thieves often work in pairs or small groups. While one is distracting you the other(s) will pick your pocket or grab your bag and run away. There have been recent snatch & run cases where the passenger on the back of a motorcycle grabs someone’s bag and then is driven off. In that situation, don’t carry your bag on the street-side.

Be wary of unidentified people asking you for identification, credit card, etc. In Spain, the police can legitimately stop you and ask you to identify yourself so you should carry identification on you at all times; a photocopy of your passport will do in a pinch. DO NOT carry your passport on you unless you need to use it.

If you have the misfortune of being robbed you should immediately report it to the nearest police station (comisaria). You cannot make an insurance claim unless you have filed a police report. The closest police station to ESADE is at:

ABOUT BARCELONA

The founding of Barcelona is sometimes attributed to the Carthaginian ruler Amilcar Barca, Hannibal’s father, who gave the city its original name of Barcino.
Another legend tells of how Hercules came in nine boats, barca nona, from Africa with colonists. Today, the locals are more likely to tell you that the name comes from Catalan, the local language, being a combination of bar “bar”, cel “heaven”, and ona “wave”.

It doesn’t matter which you believe, because Barcelona captures the spirit of all three. Steeped in history, culture, and legend, surrounded by the Mediterranean Sea on one side and mountains on the other, and with an unparalleled nightlife, Barcelona certainly lives up to its reputation as one of the most liveable cities in the world.

A LITTLE HISTORY
The city has been around since the Barbarian invasions after the fall of The Roman Empire and was the capital of the County of Catalonia. It became a major trading port in the 13th century, but was soon eclipsed by the Italian trading networks and then, with the discovery of South American riches at the end of the 15th century, it was overtaken by Cadiz as the major port of Spain.

Until the late nineteenth century, the city was bound in by city walls and pinned between the two fortresses of Montjuïc and Ciutadella. This area equates roughly to the Old Town, bordered by Plaça Catalunya, the Rambles and the Parc de la Ciutadella. The order to destroy the city walls and the fortress of Ciutadella heralded an era of massive growth and urban planning that matches Haussman's redesign of Paris. However, the advantage here was that the planners had a blank sheet. Beyond the city, small villages existed such as Gràcia, Sarrià and Sants, but the rest of the land was scrub and arable. Thus was born the Eixample, This is the grid structure of octagonal blocks that occupies the areas around the old city out to the villages that maintained their original layouts. The theory was to create a socialist, urban utopia with each block offering not only housing, workspace and utilities but also parks to all levels of society. The truth was, of course, that opportunism and corruption of ideals by developers won out! However, the grid structure still gives these areas of Barcelona a unique character. Particularly bizarre is the Diagonal – a grand avenue that bisects the city diagonally, breaking the monotony of the grids and throwing up an element of chaos in an ordered world. Very Barcelona!

There are over 1.6m people living in the city of Barcelona. This figure is tripled if we include the metropolitan area. Work it out for yourselves; this makes it one of the most densely populated cities in the modern world. And once you are here, it is very easy to understand why. We all live on top of one another. Almost everyone lives in blocks of flats, modern or old, closely packed and often noisy. For those of you used to living in the spacious outdoors, this may be a shock! For those of you used to living in big cities, it may still be a bit different. Typical old blocks – called fincas – will have 25 individual flats, with at least two people, but often housing whole families.

HINT: get someone to explain the address system for such flats!

INFORMATION SOURCES

Numerous books and guides have been written about the city, and many of them will be far more comprehensive than this section of the Student Guide can be. There are a number of local magazines and websites that have the latest listings of what's going on in the city. Some of the better ones that ESADE students have found particularly helpful are:

PERIODICALS
Time Out Guide to Barcelona
The 10th edition was published in FEB 2007. It’s possibly the most indispensable – contains comprehensive descriptions of where to go, what to eat, what to do. It includes write-ups about local customs and festivals as well. Highly recommended. There is a website, but unfortunately it contains only a fraction of the information in the book: http://www.timeout.com/barcelona/
La Netro
Food, music, art, theatre, sport . . . you name it and it’s here, online in Spanish. Information includes recommendations and comments from readers, as well as a daily program of what’s on in the city.
http://barcelona.lanetro.com/

Guía del Ocio
A weekly magazine in Spanish with extensive local listings. Also available online at http://www.guiadelocio.com/barcelona

Barcelona Connect
A small format English magazine which is loaded with helpful information about life in the city. Pick it up for free from shops, restaurants, bars and cinemas.
http://www.barcelonaconnect.com/

Barcelona Metropolitan
A free English magazine written from an expatriate perspective. The articles cover just about every aspect of living in Barcelona. It includes a classified ad section which covers housing, items for sale, personals, help wanted, etc. Also available online at http://www.barcelona-metropolitan.com

BOOKS

Barcelona by Robert Hughes
Everything you need to know about the history of Barcelona and of Catalonia. Great way to impress the locals with your knowledge of the city when you arrive.

Sin Noticias de GURB by Eduardo Mendoza
A novel by a local writer about an extraterrestrial being that lands in Barcelona. It can sometimes feel that way, especially if you’re in Europe for the first time.

USEFUL PHRASES TO GET YOU STARTED

Spanish, also known as Castilian, is the official language of Spain and shares this distinction with Euskera, the Basque language, Galician and Catalan in the different regions. Catalan is spoken by over 10 million people around the world including the south of France, Andorra, the Balearic Islands and Alguer, Sardinia. There are very few mono-lingual Catalan speakers but you will hear the language all around you in Barcelona. Here’s a link for those of you who want to learn some Catalan before you arrive.
