1.1. Spain

1.1.a) Spanish government grants (MAE grants)

The Spanish Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Co-operation offers “MAE-AEACI grants” for postgraduate training. They are intended both for Spanish students and foreigners, advanced university graduates no older than 35. Foreign applicants must have had official and continued residence in the country of origin for a minimum consecutive period of 12 months at the time of applying for the grant. The grant application should be made in the month of December of the year prior to the year in which the master programme is to be followed.

www.becasmae.es

1.1.b) Ministry of Education and Science (MEC)

1.1.b.1 MEC grants

The Ministry of Education and Science offers grants to obtain official master's degrees under the classroom learning method, in autonomous communities other than that of the family residence. They cover travelling expenses, the acquisition of books, urban transport, hall of residence or journeys, university enrolment, etc.

www.mec.es

1.1.b.2 Income Loan

This measure proposes a loan with a fixed interest rate of 0% and does not require any kind of guarantee. All the applicant has to prove is possession of a university degree, their nationality (European Union and residents in Spain) and having been accepted on an official master's degree lasting at least 60 ECTS credits. Its function is to cover both the student's education and their personal expenses. The maximum amount of the loan is 22,800 euros. Those selected do not have to settle their accounts for at least two years. And repayment starts when the beneficiary's income level reaches 22,000 euros. The Order foresees that the loan should be repaid in a period of eight years, but if after 15 years the income level required for repayment has not been reached, the debt will be wiped out. In any case, it is also possible to pay off the all or part of the amount owed in advance without any kind of penalty.

The Official Credit Institute (ICO) is responsible for managing these loans and distributing the endowment of 50 million euros among the Collaborating Credit Institutions in accordance with the operations which are concluded.

- SCHOLARSHIPS AND LOANS FROM OTHER ORGANIZATIONS:

6.a) International Education Finance Corporation (IEFC)

After observing that there were few funding options available for international students who wished to study abroad, the International Education Finance Corporation (IEFC) created the International Student Loan Program (ISLP) as a funding option with loans allowing students to carry out postgraduate studies in the United States or abroad. The ISLP is a loan based on the applicant's creditworthiness. Those applicants who are either citizens or permanent residents in the United States will be required to demonstrate their solvency, while all foreign applicants, irrespective of the amount requested or of any other circumstance, MUST have a guarantor who is either a citizen or a permanent resident in the United States. The GUARANTOR must have an established and satisfactory credit record, a job that provides them with sufficient income to be able to face all the debts that they have at that time, including the ISLP, a stable address and an employment record.

Maximum amount of the loan: 45,000 dollars.

The IEFC offers both applicants from the United States and foreigners the possibility of processing the ISLP loan application on line.
